

What is Make Some Noise?

We are a collective of young people active in many aspects of the HipHop and Reggae scene.

The aim of our campaign, „Make Some Noise – sexism and homophobia out of my music“ is to create awareness against sexist, homophobic and transphobic lyrical content and intolerant patterns of behavior. This type of inhumane mindset has nothing to do with artistic freedom. No human being should feel uncomfortable during a HipHop and Reggae party based on gender let alone having to justify oneself due to sexual preferences.

A subculture is what you make of it!
Get involved and don't look away!

We are a campaign and not an organization. Everyone can take part by spreading the purpose of our movement and by organizing events using the label „Make Some Noise“. Let your voice be heard on well established Reggae, Dancehall and HipHop parties and concerts. We show solidarity to all projects, bands and locations that share the same goals!

Feel free to use our information, logo and brochures and wear our campaign shirts.
